

Henrique Pombeiro is Co-founder and Chief Scientific Officer (CSO) of Watt Intelligent Solutions (Watt-IS), a technological company focused in delivering high-value services based in advanced AI/Machine learning algorithms that foster energy efficiency. Henrique has a MSc in Environmental Engineering from Instituto Superior Técnico, University of Lisbon, and a PhD in Sustainable Energy Systems from that university within the MIT Portugal Program, EIT InnoEnergy and Fulbright Programs.

Henrique is a board member of Future Energy Leaders Portugal (FELPT) and is an external consultant of IN+ research centre within Instituto Superior Técnico, having supervised various MSc Thesis. Henrique has several publications in ISI peer-reviewed journals and proceedings of international conferences and has been invited to several communications and panel discussions in the energy field.